Fidelity Funds - Emerging Europe, Middle East and Africa Fund (the "Fund")
Creation of new share classes to hold Russian asset

Dear Shareholder,

We are writing to you in the context of the unprecedented geo-political situation caused by Russia's invasion of Ukraine and the resultant impact to the Fund caused by sanctions and the actions of governments and market counterparties on certain Russian issuers and assets.

These sanctions, combined with the partial closure of the Russian Stock Exchange and the resultant inability of market participants to trade and achieve settlement in Russian equities has prevented the Fund from being able to dispose of those assets (the "Russian Assets").

On 28 February 2022, the Management Company of Fidelity Funds SICAV, in the best interests of investors in the Fund, decided to apply a fair valuation¹ to the Russian Assets. On 1 March 2022, the Russian Assets comprising the Russian equities were written down to zero and the value of related American depositary receipts (ADRs) and global depositary receipts (GDRs) was also written down to zero by 7 April 2022.

Split of the Fund to create new side pocket share classes for Russian Assets

The board of directors of the Fund (the "Board") together with FIL Investment Management (Luxembourg) S.A., as management company of the Fund (the "Management Company"), continue to review any further action which may be taken to ensure the activity of the Fund and the appropriate treatment of Russian Assets. In accordance with the articles of incorporation of the Fidelity Funds (the "Articles of Incorporation"), and prospectus of the Fidelity Funds (the "Prospectus") containing the details of the Fund, the Board has decided to create new share classes within the Fund to which the Russian Assets will be allocated (the "New Share Class(es)") with effect on 5 June 2023 (the "Effective Date") which is considered in the best interest of the shareholders while maintaining fair treatment for all shareholders of the Fund. The New Share Classes will only exist for the purpose of holding the Russian Assets and will be liquidated upon the disposal of the Russian Assets. Should value, and normal trading, become available to enable disposal of the Russian Assets, the Russian Assets will be disposed of (and proceeds distributed among the shareholders of the New Share Classes), in tranches at time or times and at price(s) considered to be in the best interests of shareholders, and in a manner to ensure fair and equal treatment of shareholders. For the avoidance of doubt, any such distribution of proceeds will be made available to all shareholders of the New Share Classes simultaneously. As and when the circumstances change and it becomes feasible to realise value in the Russian Assets, we will update shareholders of the Fund with information on our divestment and distribution plans.

The Fund is primarily invested in liquid assets other than the Russian Assets and will continue to be managed in accordance with its investment objective and policy. The creation of the New Share Classes will enable shareholders to benefit from the ongoing performance of the Fund's non-Russian Assets whilst retaining (through the New Share Classes) an interest in the Russian Assets should their value return in the future.

A New Share Class will be created for each existing share class, to which the Russian Assets in the Fund will be allocated. The New Share Classes will be denominated in the same currency (unhedged) as the corresponding existing share class, and will be closed for subscriptions, switches and redemptions.

New Share Classes will not be charged any annual management fee or charges of the Fund's central administration. The New Share Classes may be charged class specific charges such as costs of the Fund's depositary and custodian, legal services, the Luxembourg tax d'abonnement and other costs related to the Fund where these are to the benefit of all investors in the Fund. As at the date of this letter, these ongoing costs (including the establishment costs) are estimated to be US$86,000 for the first 12-month period following the establishment of the New Share Classes. The existing share classes will continue to incur the costs as set out in the Prospectus. Such costs allocated and charged to the New Share Classes will first be funded by the Management Company, and will be reimbursed in full to the Management Company by the Fund before distributing the proceeds to shareholders.

of the New Share Classes once the Russian Assets are tradable and have value, and will be reflected in the NAV of the New Share Classes. In the event the remaining Russian Assets held by the New Share Classes (after the aforementioned distribution) have value, any ongoing costs incurred will be charged to the New Share Classes and reflected in the NAV of the New Share Classes accordingly. Note that should the costs incurred by the New Share Classes exceed the total value realised from the Russian Assets, no distribution will be made to shareholders of the New Share Classes. The Management Company will bear the costs allocated to the New Share Classes if their liquidating value is not sufficient to cover them. The Management Company reserves the right, at any time, to review and adjust the basis upon which any costs and charges which would normally be incurred by the Fund are allocated to the New Share Classes and we will notify shareholders of the Fund as and when appropriate.

As at the date of this letter, the Fund does not have any unamortised preliminary expenses.

The creation of the New Share Classes provides the necessary solution to distinguish (including for the purposes of the calculation of the NAV of the Fund) the Russian Assets from the other investments of the Fund. Whilst there is no legal segregation of assets and liabilities between share classes, accounting segregation between share classes is in place so that the liabilities which will arise in connection with the operation of the New Share Classes will only be allocated to these classes. The accounting treatment applied will be the same as the methodology used between share classes in other sub-funds of the Fidelity Funds.

On the Effective Date, all shareholders of the Fund will receive the relevant allocation of an equivalent number of New Share Classes (fractional to two decimal places) to their existing shares. For example, if you currently hold one share in the Existing Share Class, you will be allocated one share in the corresponding New Share Class.

The remaining assets (i.e. non-Russian Assets) of the Fund will be managed in accordance with the existing investment objective and policy on the basis that the value proposition and commercial viability of the investment strategy is considered by the Management Company and the Board of the Fund to continue to be valid in the medium to long term. The Fund will not make any further investments in Russian securities until further notice. This aligns the Fund's investment management with the Fund's reference Index from which all Russian equities have been removed.

The Fund's investment objective and policy, its pricing and dealing processes in relation to the existing share classes will not be changed at this stage.

The Russian Assets in the New Share Classes will continue to be valued according to the valuation policy of the Fund. As at the date of this letter, the Russian Assets are valued at zero.

As at 31 March 2023, the Net Asset Value of the Fund was USD241,449,065.

Tax

We do not believe that the creation of the New Shares Classes and the associated changes described in this letter will have any significant effect on most types of investors from a tax perspective. The creation of the New Share Classes should have no Hong Kong profits tax implications to the Fund. Generally, Hong Kong investors will not be subject to any Hong Kong tax on capital gains realised on the redemption or switching of any shares. If any acquisition, switching or redemption of shares is or forms part of a trade, profession or business carried on in Hong Kong, gains realised may attract Hong Kong profits tax. However, each investor's circumstances vary, consequently we do not provide tax advice and investors should always seek their own professional tax and other advice.

Temporary block to Subscriptions

To implement the operational requirements of the creation of the New Share Classes, the Board has decided that subscriptions or switches into the Fund will not be accepted after cut-off time at 5:00 p.m. (or your distributor's internal dealing cut-off time which may be earlier than 5:00 p.m.) on 4 May 2023 until 2 June 2023. Subscriptions or switches into the Fund will resume as normal on the Effective Date. Redemptions and switches out of the Fund will be available as usual prior to the Effective Date, but if you have redeemed or switched out of the Fund prior to the Effective Date, you will not be entitled to any allocation of new share in the New Share Classes on the Effective Date and would not be entitled to receive any value in respect of the Russian Assets should their value return in the future.

The Board accepts responsibility for the accuracy of the information contained in this letter.

Information relating to the Fund, and future developments relating to the New Share Classes, will be made available on our website at: <https://www.fidelityinternational.com>². Periodic updates to the New Share Classes will be communicated to shareholders of the Fund as and when appropriate via our website above or where there are major and material developments relating to the New Share Classes, we will notify shareholders of the Fund accordingly.

Shareholders may also obtain information with regard to the New Share Class holdings of Russian Assets upon request.

If you have any questions related to the above, or if you would like to request for a copy of the current Prospectus, the Product Key Facts Statement of the Fund, the Articles of Incorporation (available for inspection free of charge at all times during normal office hours), the latest audited annual report and accounts and unaudited semi-annual report and accounts of the Fidelity Funds (which is also available at www.fidelity.com.hk²) or other material agreements relating to the Fidelity Funds, please contact your usual Financial Adviser or the Fidelity Investor Hotline³ at +852 2629 2629, or you can write to the Hong Kong Representative at Level 21, Two Pacific Place, 88 Queensway, Admiralty, Hong Kong.
